Andrea Kelly Joins Rocky Mountain Health Plans and CNIC Health Solutions

(GREENWOOD VILLAGE) – Andrea Kelly joined Rocky Mountain Health Plans and CNIC Health Solutions, a Rocky Mountain Health Plans third-party administrator (TPA), as account manager. She is responsible for self-funded business groups in Colorado and other states served by CNIC.

In 2004, Rocky Mountain became the majority owner of CNIC (pronounced “scenic”) and established a partnership that provides both organizations the opportunity to offer self-funded benefit products and a full spectrum of health care products and services to employer groups.

Kelly brings 18 years experience in the health insurance industry. She joins Rocky Mountain from United Healthcare, where she was a senior account manager in Colorado Springs.

“I am very pleased to add Andrea to our team,” said Jim Swayze, president and CEO of CNIC Health Solutions, and vice president and general manager of Front Range operations for Rocky Mountain Health Plans. “Our entire organization will benefit from her extensive industry experience.”
